

Using simulations with varying  $h$  in optic tectum geometry to estimate a linear relationship for cutoff points a Method #1: Varying  $h$  and measuring cutoffs

Can only be applied to numerical simulations

b

c Method #2: Piecewise linear fit on matrix diagonal

Can be applied to experimental data

d

